Call for Papers

The International Society for Data Science and Analytics (ISDSA) is currently seeking papers for the ISDSA 2020 Meeting. Researchers, practitioners, educators, and users come together at the ISDSA Meeting to present new and ongoing work and to discuss future directions for data science and data analytics. We welcome the submission of theoretical and method papers, applications and case studies, tutorials, and software.

Proposal Deadlines

Proposals should be submitted by 11:59PM on Feb 1, 2020 online at <https://meeting.isdsa.org>.

Conference tracks

- Regular paper will be reviewed by at least two reviewers. Regular paper submissions will also be automatically considered for speed paper presentations. Each speaker receives 30 minutes. All accepted papers are presented in the invited regular paper session.
- Speed paper will be reviewed by at least one reviewer. Each speaker receives 5 minutes. All accepted speed papers are presented in the invited speed paper session.

Best paper awards

The Best Paper Award Committee, consisting of four members, will evaluate all accepted regular and speed papers and select one best regular paper award and one best student paper award.
